

Storm water drainage installation

Contributed by Administrator
Sunday, 30 November 2008

With the need to help the environment a multi dwelling development can benefit from installing rain water tank. Rain water tank can reduce the runoff on a new project hence making the size of pits and retention system smaller, hence saving the project a lot of money.